A Mission to Serve Every Child

The International Family Academy \(TIF\) is a faith-based, nonprofit school system serving K-12 students across three campuses in Broward County, Florida. From the beginning, the organization has focused on supporting students from underserved and economically challenged communities, creating learning environments where children feel seen, supported, and empowered to succeed.

Many students arrive with unique challenges, including academic gaps, limited educational opportunities, or experiences that have impacted their learning journey, prompting school leaders to seek ways to accelerate student achievement, strengthen teacher support, and create more meaningful opportunities for family engagement.

Building a Partnership Around Students, Teachers, and Families

When exploring Title I- and Title II-funded opportunities, TIF found LEARN It to be a natural fit for their students' needs.

We chose to partner with LEARN It because their approach aligned with our mission and values. They understood the importance of serving the whole child while also focusing on measurable academic growth.”

— DR. PRISCILLA WEBSTER

Principal and Co-founder of The International Family Academy

The LEARN It Support Model

- For TIF, the LEARN It approach combines targeted supports for a cohesive, student-centered model.
- ✔ Targeted reading and math interventions
 - ✔ Summer enrichment programming
 - ✔ Teacher professional development
 - ✔ Parent workshops and engagement opportunities
 - ✔ Take-home enrichment kits
 - ✔ Ongoing collaboration between educators, families, and intervention specialists

Summer education programs extended learning opportunities beyond the school year, helping students maintain academic growth while participating in engaging enrichment activities. At the same time, teachers participated in practical, collaborative professional development focused on instructional strategies, differentiated instruction, classroom engagement, and intervention techniques.

Families also became active participants. Parent workshops provided practical guidance for supporting learning at home, while take-home enrichment kits transformed learning into a family-centered experience.

When Home and School Began Working as One Team

The partnership delivered meaningful academic gains while strengthening the connection between home and school. As families became more engaged in supporting learning at home, educators observed greater student confidence, participation, and accountability in the classroom.

For The International Family Academy, the results reinforced that when students receive targeted academic support with their families included and educators receive meaningful professional development, student success accelerates both inside and outside the classroom.

Academic Growth Through a Community Approach

For schools seeking to maximize the impact of Title I and Title II funding, TIF’s experience demonstrates the value of partnerships that extend beyond academics.

Sustainable student success happens when schools invest in the entire support system surrounding each child, and when students, educators, and families are empowered to grow together.
